Mayor-Elect Brad Cavanagh

Dubuque will have its first new mayor in 16 years when Mayor-Elect Brad Cavanagh is sworn into office on Jan. 3, 2022.

Cavanagh was elected in November and will replace Mayor Roy D. Buol who chose not to seek reelection and leaves office as the longest-serving mayor in Dubuque's history. Buol was first elected to city council as the Ward Two representative in 1996 and was first elected mayor in 2005.

Cavanagh was first elected as Ward Four representative on the city council in 2019. He will vacate that position when he becomes mayor. The city council will choose whether to fill the vacant position for the remainder of the term (Dec. 31, 2023) by appointment or special election.

"I am incredibly honored to have this opportunity to serve Dubuque as our next mayor," said Cavanagh. "I look forward to leading our efforts in the next year to move forward with the goals and priorities we set as a city council, like improving our infrastructure, strengthening our local childcare resources, and implementing important community master plans."

"At the same time, it will be essential for me as mayor to lead efforts to build an even stronger sense of community, togetherness, and trust throughout the city. We face so many challenges right now as a society, and I know we can succeed if we unite to face them together."

Cavanagh is a Dubuque native and resides at 565 Fenelon Place with his wife, Jennifer, and their two sons. He has served his hometown in several ways since returning to Dubuque in 2008. Prior to his election to city council, Cavanagh was a member of the Dubuque Housing Commission, served as vice chairperson of the Dubuque County Food Policy Council, was a board member for the Fountain of Youth, served as chairperson of the Guiding Coalition for the city's Circles Initiative, and is a co-founder of Resources Unite.

He is a social worker with over 20 years of experience working in a variety of practice settings with diverse populations. He spent the last decade at Loras College as an associate professor of social work. Cavanagh holds a bachelor's degree in social work from the University of Iowa and a master's degree in social work from St. Louis University.

Incumbents Re-elected

At-Large Representative Ric Jones, Ward One Representative Susan Farber, and Ward Three Representative Danny Sprank were all re-elected to four-year terms on the council. The terms of At-Large Representative David Resnick and Ward Two Representative Laura Roussel will expire on Dec. 31, 2023. ●

City Unveils Volunteer Portal in Partnership with United Way

The City of Dubuque, in partnership with United Way of the Dubuque Area Tri-States, has launched VolunteerDBQ.com, an online portal to connect residents with volunteer opportunities in the community.

The website allows users to browse available volunteer opportunities and connect with area non-profits. Volunteers can easily view opportunities that match their skills, interests, and abilities. Additionally, non-profits can upload their organization's volunteer needs to seek community help. The site is an updated version of United Way's "Get Connected" platform designed to be a hub for community change for volunteers and non-profits alike.

A Volunteer Generation Fund grant totaling $29,799 annually from Volunteer Iowa will allow the City of Dubuque AmeriCorps program to strategically enhance and implement the platform, strengthening the Dubuque's volunteer network. Volunteer DBQ will support organizations by providing resources to retain existing volunteers, implementing new volunteer management strategies, and connecting new volunteers with community opportunities.

The initiative will also work to build relationships between residents, local nonprofits, schools, local governments, and businesses to achieve organizational goals and community-wide success, changing the way the community looks at service and volunteering and broadening what it means to serve in our community. These various partnerships will help diversify Dubuque's volunteer community, advancing equity and inclusion in our community. ●

Program Helps Older Adults Stay in Their Home

Many older adults want to “age in place” and continue to stay in their home as they grow older. However, there may be concerns about mobility, safety, and other daily activities.

The City of Dubuque is offering grants for low-income Dubuque residents, age 62 and older, to modify their homes so they can age at home safely rather than move to a nursing home or another assisted care facility. Inspections, supplies, and modifications are all included in the grant.

Examples of these home modifications include:

- Installing grab bars in a bathroom.
- Replacing doorknobs with lever style handles.
- Installing hand rails on steps to enter/exit the home.
- Repair flooring and transitions to remove trip hazards.
- Moving switches and outlets where they are more accessible.
- Converting a bathtub to a step-in shower
- And more!
