Mouzon Named Dubuque's Community Impact Director

Dubuque City Manager Mike Van Milligen has appointed Antonio Mouzon as community impact director for the City of Dubuque. Antonio has served as director of the Dubuque Multicultural Family Center since June of 2023 and began the new role in early July.

Previously, the City's community impact activities and staff, including the AmeriCorps Program, community outreach and impact programs, equitable fine and fee reform, and prevention and diversion services, were a division of the City's leisure services department. The new department includes the community impact staff and activities as well as the staff and activities of the Multicultural Family Center.

Antonio holds a bachelor's degree in health, wellness, and recreation and a master's in communications from the University of Dubuque. He is currently pursuing a doctorate in higher education, with a focus on diversity, equity, and inclusion, from Azusa Pacific University in Azusa, Calif.

HEY, NEIGHBOR!

Join or Start a Neighborhood Association

Joining or starting a neighborhood association and getting to know your neighbors through meetings, projects, and events offers many benefits:

- You make friends. Seeing familiar faces on your walk and chatting with a neighbor over the fence creates happiness and long-lasting friendships.
- You have someone who has your back. Your neighbor may be able to lend you a tool for your yardwork, and you may be able to bring them some vegetables harvested from your garden.
- You get access to information and resources. You can find out what's happening on your street and in your city.
- Many hands make light work when planning a block party or cleaning up trash in your neighborhood. Neighbors can have a shared interest in an idea you have to make the neighborhood even better.

Wondering if there's already an association nearby?

National Lead Poisoning Prevention Week OCTOBER 20-26, 2024

National Lead Poisoning Prevention Week highlights the ways parents, caregivers, and communities can reduce children's exposure to lead and prevent its harmful health effects.

Lead is an invisible threat. If your house or apartment was built before 1978, you may have lead paint in your home. Ask yourself:

- Is the air in your home clean?
- Do your children have breathing problems, like asthma?
- Is there dampness in your home?
- Is there chipping or peeling paint?

Lead can cause learning disabilities, hearing loss, attention deficit disorder, and behavioral problems. High blood lead levels are associated with lower IQ and a decline of about 15% in reading and math scores.

Have your child's blood lead level tested. See your doctor or the Dubuque Visiting Nurse Association (VNA), located at 660 Iowa St.

The City's Housing and Community Development Department provides financial assistance for renters and homeowners to create a safer and healthier home.

Program participants may qualify for up to $30,000 for lead remediation plus an additional $5,000 for other household hazards, such as moisture intrusion, allergens, contaminants, pests, carbon monoxide, radon, fall protection, security, and more.

If you think you may have lead paint, or other hazards throughout your home, submit an interest form at cityofdubuque.org/healthyhomes or call 563-589-1724.

A Message from the CITY MANAGER

Michael C. Van Milligen

The Robert D. and Billie Ray Center at Drake University annually recognizes Iowa individuals, organizations, and communities that show the center's six pillars of CHARACTER COUNTS®: trustworthiness, respect, responsibility, fairness, caring, and good citizenship. In June, the Ray Center announced that Dubuque is the 2024 Iowa Community of Character!

When the award was announced, Scott Raecker, executive director of the Ray Center, said, "Dubuque is an inspiring example of how communities can work together to promote positive values and make a meaningful impact on the lives of all their residents."

The entire community should be proud of this recognition because it acknowledges Dubuque's character, which is something all residents play a role in defining. I see Dubuque's character demonstrated on almost a daily basis through the commitment of City of Dubuque employees providing critical services to residents. It's also evident in the passion of residents working together to address challenges or to support issues important to them. I also see it in the actions of the Mayor and City Council and the decisions they make about the future of the community. Dubuque's business and non-profit community also contribute significantly to the community's character in how they support the city's quality of life and economy.

Dubuque was nominated by Robert Palmer, the former General Counsel and Director of Government Affairs with the Iowa League of Cities. He said, "Dubuque is a great city with a lot of heart and city officials that care. The community has a story of population loss followed by stabilization, recovery, and continued growth. The city officials are passionate about the wide variety of residents they have and what it takes to meet their needs. Language barriers, employment, and embracing cultural identity are challenges that has Dubuque faced and overcome gracefully."

*Congratulations, Dubuque,
on being the 2024 Iowa
Community of Character!*

I believe the six pillars of CHARACTER COUNTS complement the City of Dubuque's five pillars guiding the City's efforts to create an Equitable Community (and Organization) of Choice: resiliency, sustainability, equity, transparency, and compassion.
