The city is looking forward to some financial relief from the federal government and when this comes through many of the frozen line items are expected to be thawed and purchasing resumed. Revenue is at 105% of projections.

2) Library Use Report – Henricks reported that overall library use during February represented the lowest numbers in at least 20 years. Extremely cold weather coupled with several large snowfalls this winter likely influenced the decrease in what was already low use due to the pandemic. Curbside visits numbered 191. Use of downloadable materials showed an increase of 3%. Poggemiller inquired as to whether the use of downloadable materials by children could be reported to the Board. Henricks reported that these statistics are difficult to pull out of the entire use number, but will check on a bi-monthly or quarterly report for the Board.

3) Marketing Report – Henricks reported that the Home Improvement Reference Center was promoted during the month of February and was a successful campaign. Use reached 153, a record exceeded by only a few the last time it was advertised (March, 2019), and in February of last year when use was 168.

Henricks reported the self-guided art tour is moving forward with components of the tour being submitted to the vendor. One feature will be photos of the art work in the application as an additional guide.
