Officers are required to file a Use of Force report anytime force is used beyond simple hands-on. This would include holds, takedowns, PDS (Personal Defense Spray/pepper spray), strikes, up to and including the use of firearms. Based on five-year averages, officers used reportable force on 210 of the 3,417 arrests, or 6.1% of arrests, meaning 93.9% of arrests are completed with verbal commands or minimal hands-on guidance.

Weapon display would be incidents when an officer displayed a firearm at a suspect to facilitate an arrest. Firearm Used would denote weapons discharged as a use of force.

Excessive force complaints can be initiated by citizen complaint or internally generated. Some complaints are directed to more than one officer involved in the arrest. All complaints are investigated, but any complaint that appears potentially serious may become a Formal Investigation. A Founded Complaint would be one where policy violations were found.

All allegations of employee misconduct or complaints made against the Department, including anonymous complaints, are appropriately received, recorded and investigated.

Complaints which are less serious in nature, such as alleged rudeness, tardiness, etc. are referred to and investigated by the employee's immediate supervisor, and would not be reflected above.

Complaints of a serious nature, such as, allegations of criminal misconduct, corruption, excessive force, breach of civil rights, or ongoing negative behavior by an employee are referred to the Police Chief, Assistant Chief, or Professional Standards Supervisor for formal investigation.

Disciplinary action is intended to be corrective and progressive in nature. The degree of severity is determined on an individual basis, taking into account the seriousness of the offense and the employee's record of service with the Department.

All complaints, regardless of the degree of seriousness, are forwarded to the Professional Standards Supervisor for review. The Assistant Chief and Professional Standards Supervisor are responsible to ensure that the Chief of Police is notified of all complaints, regardless of the degree of seriousness.
